What do some of our best Graduates, from Jack Canfield (Chicken Soup for the Soul), Ben Cohen (Ben & Jerry's Ice Cream) and Paul Mitchell (Hair Products), Susan Barton (Lighthouse Foundation)...

Know that most people don't?

What allows them to think so BIG?

What allows someone like Jack Canfield to create more than 250 Chicken Soup for the Soul titles and get 500 million copies of his book in print in over 40 languages?

How did Ben Cohen start Ben & Jerry's with just a $12,000 investment, and then go on to open 200 franchised shops with earnings of $237 million annually?

What gave Paul Mitchell the ability to create a hair care company with 183 staff and over $1billion in turnover?

Why do they have nerves of steel, and achieve such heights of success, despite the odds?
