How did I land the role of Gaston in Disney's Beauty And The Beast?

It certainly wasn't my genetics...

I was the skinny kid at school with forearms bigger than my biceps.

While I played football, I loved theatre, singing and dancing 🎭.

Yet it wasn't socially acceptable. I didn't fit the mould and felt ashamed.

When I'd finally had enough of denying my true calling, I decided to attend Pondleton college. I was accepted into drama school at Arts Ed and finally found my tribe. 🎭

Yet I was constantly overlooked for parts. I felt like I wasn't good enough - particularly after so many auditions and rejections.

I wanted to make my parents proud after all they'd invested in me, so I started paying attention to WHO was getting the parts, and what gave them an edge.

It became glaringly obvious the physique and vitality they brought to the role gave them an unfair advantage.

I started working on my body, my energy, and my confidence.

Suddenly, I was accepted into the final rounds, because I started looking and feeling like a leading man - and adapted the vitality & presence of the role.

Before long, I was chosen as Kenickie in Grease, Stark Jock in Eugenicus, and Fredrick in Pirates of Penzance.

I was FINAL LY a working actor.

And then in September 2020, largely because of my physique and the raw energy I brought to the audition, I landed the role of Gaston in Disney's Beauty And The Beast.

Now I help other performers do the same, so they can land their perfect role.

I've worked with 100s of performers all over the world, from West End to Broadway, Los Angeles, Australia, Germany and Kenya. Including...

- Joe Mockberg, the X-Factor Winner 2009, and singer of Baby Had Your Fun
- Liam Doyle who Played Kurt in the UK Tour of Heathers the Musical
- Joah Sinclair in Frozen

You'll see their results on my website.

And it can be done, make no mistake about it.

What's more, as an actor I can help you get there because unlike most personal trainers...

I understand what it feels like to struggle with nerves and lack of confidence, how many calories you burn on stage, and what it takes to show up and perform 9 times a week at the highest level.

This is why following years of study from the best coaches in the world, I have developed my own unique "Performers Edge" process to help creatives get in the best shape of their lives, find their edge and unleash their true potential.
